TUCSON AWARDS AND ACCOLADES:

- The all-new 2016 Tucson, which made its debut at the 2015 New York International Auto Show, earned a distinction as one of the “Top 10 Auto Show Debuts of the Year,” from Cars.com

- “Hyundai’s Fluidic Sculpture styling language gives the new Tucson a much more athletic and bolder appearance than the current Tucson. It all starts at the front, where Hyundai’s corporate hexagonal grille sits front and center, flanked by swept-back LED headlights. Hyundai says the Tucson’s front bumper features a wing-shaped appearance, and it tried making the Tucson look sleeker by pushing back the A-pillar. You’ll notice the crossover’s sheetmetal features sharper character lines, and blacked-out trim around the wheelwells gives it a slightly more rugged look. Around back, new taillights remind us of those on the Hyundai Genesis luxury sedan.” Motor Trend

- “The base Tucson model will come with a two-liter direct injection engine, good for 164 horsepower, and a six-speed automatic transmission. Much more interesting is the available 1.6-liter four-cylinder engine, producing 175 horsepower and 195 pound-feet of torque. That engine comes with a seven-speed automated manual transmission, which uses two computer-controlled clutches to enact shifts. This type of transmission offers the convenience of an automatic and the efficiency of a manual.” CNET.com

- The 2014 Tucson topped the Compact Crossover SUV category in the 2014 AutoPacific® Vehicle Satisfaction Awards (VSA); AutoPacific’s VSA measures how satisfied an owner is with his/her new vehicle. “The Hyundai Tucson won a decisive victory over tough competition in one of the fastest growing categories in the industry,” said George Peterson, President, AutoPacific. “Tucson won based on its all-around product excellence, distinctive style, good fuel economy, Hyundai’s long warranty and persuasive pricing.”

- The 2012 Tucson secured a spot on Kelley Blue Book’s Best Resale Value Award Top 10 list
- Tucson was named one of the 2012 “10 Most Fuel-Efficient SUV/Crossovers” by Kelley Blue Book’s kbb.com
- Tucson was added to The Car Book’s 2012 “BEST BETS” list by author Jack Gillis and the Center for Auto Safety

- Consumer Guide editors gave the Tucson a “Best Buy” award in the compact crossover/SUV category
